

1 March 1973

Maury reported that Congressman Holifield's staff is anxiously awaiting a letter from the Director in response to the Congressman's written inquiry on police training. The Director noted plans to forward it.

2 March 1973

Maury highlighted yesterday's LIG meeting at the White House and his recommendation that we not provide examples of Congressional leaks of classified information for White House use in reacting to Congressional criticism of the Administration's "indiscretions." The DDS advised that the Office of Security is keeping a reasonably complete record of obvious leaks of intelligence information in the press and elsewhere.

5 March 1973

Maury highlighted the statement Congressman Holifield will introduce into the Congressional Record today on Agency briefing of U.S. police forces. He also noted a related news release that will be issued by the Congressman's office.

6 March 1973

Maury highlighted Congressman Koch's reaction to our response to Congressman Holifield's letter concerning police training, as reported in today's press. Maury noted that Congressman Koch plans to ask GAO for a ruling on this matter, and the Director suggested that Colby provide some guidance to Comptroller General Elmer Staats.

The Director noted ~~Advice~~ that Hugh Sidey of Time magazine plans to write a story alleging that Howard Hunt was employed by a cover organization, i.e., Robert R. Mullen Company, when he left the Agency. Colby noted that this company is a completely private concern but has provided cover for one or two officers overseas. The Director asked Thuermer to be prepared to cope with any inquiries when the story appears.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Acting Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT : Use of Journalists in the Next Senior Seminar

1. Your approval is requested to invite a journalist to speak to the forthcoming Senior Seminar which will begin on 16 September 1973.

2. The Senior Seminar Staff would like to invite one representative of the media to discuss the subject, "The Media, Government, and CIA." Their first choice for this subject is Hugh Sidey, Washington Bureau Chief for Time-Life Inc. Alternate choices would be David Broder, Washington Post; Meg Greenfield, Washington Post; and George Reedy, Dean, School of Journalism, Marquette University. Biographic information on each is attached. All of the above have been approved by the Office of Security to speak at the Senior Seminar on an unclassified basis.

3. Your approval is requested to invite any of the following, as discussed above, to address the Senior Seminar: Hugh Sidey, David Broder, Meg Greenfield, or George Reedy.

The following will be the luncheon guests today:

- Hugh Sidey - Host and Bureau Chief. Always been cordial, friendly and fair as far as I can figure out. He covered Kennedy in 1960; then was White House correspondent and then began writing a column on the Presidency for Life. When it folded, he took the column to Time. He appears on the Agronsky show and you may have met him when he came out with the Time writers for a briefing.
- John Stacks - He is the Washington News editor. He is the second man in the Washington Bureau; an inside desk man, I would think.
- Jess Cook - He was out here at your ONE backgrounder. We get calls from him now and then.
- John Steele - He was out here for the briefing a year or so ago. He is the magazine's senior correspondent. I gather he does corporation business, e.g., the visit of Japanese industrialists under Time, Inc. sponsorship was his baby.
- John Mulliken - He covers the White House and has been out here for a number of briefings and has been appreciative.
- Jerry Hannifin - He is the one who talked to me about the Vietnam torture story and told me that the conduct of the POW's was a reaffirmation of what kept our nation going at Valley Forge, at Cold Harbor, at Vicksburg. Hannifin is the Time man on the Watergate case, according to a memo you wrote concerning his uncovering of the name of Morton Jackson.
- Jerry Schechter - Diplomatic editor in Washington and a long-time friend of Bill Nelson's. Nelson has pressed him a couple of times on the sourcing of the Khrushchev memoirs. Bill knows Jerry from their days in Tokyo.

Dean Fischer - White House correspondent. I have a notation that he once had a date with a young lady from our Agency, but nothing more is known about him here.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Helms

The Director of Training is considering drawing from the following list one or more speakers to participate in the next running of the Advanced Intelligence Seminar which begins 8 September:

Mr. David Broder, Washington Post,
Political Analyst

Mr. Robert Harwood, Washington Post,
National Affairs, Editor

We would appreciate knowing if you would prefer not to include any of the individuals named above.

The Office of Training has scheduled for the same Advanced Intelligence Seminar on 15 September Professor [redacted] Hugh Cunningham suggests that the [redacted] presentation be planned for the auditorium in order to give a large number of Agency employees an opportunity to hear him. His subject at this his third appearance at the AIS is "The Great Powers and Shifting Relations". If the auditorium plan works out Professor [redacted] would speak for approximately 50 minutes and would then answer questions for an additional period. Following the larger session he would join the AIS students for a true seminar. If you have no objection we will authorize Hugh and his people to set up the auditorium arrangements. This proposal is similar to that which presented [redacted] on 2 October 1970 when he discussed "American Politics in the 1970's" in what was apparently a highly successful session during a mid-career course last year.

One last OTR proposed speaker item involves Max Ways of Fortune magazine. His name was included in a list of journalists which Colonel White showed to you in connection with the Senior Seminar. You approved further consideration and use of Bartlett, Rowan, Sidey, Harsch and Lisagor. (OTR has subsequently invited Harsch and Lisagor to speak as media representatives.) OTR neglected to specify that Mr. Max Ways, although a member of Fortune's editorial board, was being considered to speak as a sociologist rather than as a journalist. OTR would like to have him appear in the Senior Seminar block on the Agency's domestic environment specifically to have him speak on "Changing American Values" early in November. We would appreciate your agreement for the use of Max Ways in this context.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Senior Seminar Speaker

1. This memorandum contains a recommendation for your approval of a journalist as a speaker in a non-journalist capacity for the Senior Seminar.

2. In a memorandum dated 2 July 1971 we submitted a list of eight journalists' names for your approval as possible speakers: Charles Bartlett, Carl Rowan, Hugh Sidey, Joseph Harsch, Peter Lisagor, Julius Duscha, Orr Kelly and Max Ways of Fortune magazine. On 26 July the Executive Director-Comptroller informed us that you had no objections to our inviting any of the first five. Having received their clearances, we have now invited two of these -- Harsch and Lisagor -- to speak as media representatives.

3. The 2 July memorandum failed to specify that Max Ways, a member of the editorial board of Fortune, was being considered not to speak as a journalist but, in effect, as a sociologist in the Seminar's block on the domestic environment of the Agency. His article "Finding the American Direction" published in the October 1970 issue seemed to us an admirable analysis of changing American social and cultural values. On the basis of this and other articles and subject to your approval, we propose to invite Mr. Ways to speak on "Changing American Values" when this block of the Seminar is being presented in early November. For your information, Mr. Ways has been cleared by the Office of Security to speak on an unclassified basis.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM : Herbert E. Hetu
Assistant to the Director (Public Affairs)

SUBJECT : Status of Major Media Projects/Requests

MAJOR MEDIA PROJECTS/REQUESTS

1. Projects Underway:

a. U.S. News & World Report: Interview with DCI complete (held Friday, April 22). We are now reviewing copy for security. Interview will be featured on the cover and be released (hit the streets) on May 9 in the issue dated May 16.

b. CBS "60 Minutes": A 15-20 minute segment will be produced. Correspondent is Dan Rather. Filming of DCI and Headquarters to begin week of May 16. Air date not known.

c. Parade: The Sunday supplement is beginning work on a cover story which will feature DCI and CIA. Lloyd Shearer, the editor, and Herb Hetu have discussed and exchanged correspondence. Publication date not yet firm.

d. AFRTS-Armed Forces Radio-TV Services: Will interview DCI at a future date (to be decided) on film for distribution to AFRTS radio and TV stations worldwide.

e. Time: Feature article on intelligence. Now in discussion stage. [redacted] will write article. Have requested meeting with DCI to discuss project and areas the article might cover.

2. Proposals/Requests:

a. "Issues and Answers" (ABC TV): Wants DCI at an early date for a general, live interview. Would be done locally at ABC studios in Washington. Interviewer probably John Scali and regular moderator, Robert Clark. We had firm invitations for April 24 and May 1 but declined.

b. "Today" Show (NBC TV): Wants DCI to appear for 8-10 segment sometime in next few weeks. Would be live interview with Tom Petit originating in NBC studios locally at WRC-TV.

c. Time: Photographer Stanle Tretick wants to do a color photo-essay on the CIA. Mostly interested in photographing the building (inside and out), not the people or what is being done. Has agreed to submit all photos for security review. Hugh Sidey, local Bureau Chief and New York editors have enthusiastically approved project (i.e., it will be used).

d. Washington Bureau of Los Angeles Times: Jack Nelson, Bureau Chief, has requested DCI meet over breakfast some morning in near future with Washington Bureau members.

e. Editorial Board of Washington Star: Standing invitation to meet informally over lunch or dinner.

f. Sigma Delta Chi (National Journalist Honor Society): Has requested DCI speak at their annual dinner (3 or 10 June) at National Press Club here in Washington. Vice President Mondale was to be speaker; had to cancel.

g. Canadian Broadcasting Company: Pat Habib, producer of "As It Happens", a 90 minute daily radio program, requests a 10 minute recorded interview with DCI. He would be their daily "man in the hotseat". Program is broadcast worldwide with a reported audience of 2-1/2 million listeners.

h. Foreign Correspondents Dinner: Marino de Medici of Il Tempo (Rome newspaper) has proposed a background lunch/dinner for DCI with "friendly" foreign media correspondents stationed in Washington.

i. Jerry O'Leary, Washington Star: Wants to do Q&A interview with DCI. This is taped and transcript printed verbatim (usually page 1). (O'Leary has had serious heart attack which will delay this request for indefinite period.)

j. Sally Quinn, Washington Post: Has standing request to do interview with DCI for proposed profile. Wants an hour -- anytime/weekend/evening, etc. Will bring photographer to take informal photos. Have so far declined.

3. Recommended Initiatives:

a. Media breakfasts/lunches/dinners: Prior to swearing-in scores of newsmen requested interviews/meetings/calls, etc. We should schedule meetings (lunches here at CIA Headquarters probably best) with mixed groups of those newsmen for get-acquainted sessions, probably 6-8 newsmen at each with a like number of senior staff people (Mr. Knoche, Admiral Murphy, Dr. Bowie, etc.).

b. Media Seminar: Down the road a piece we should sponsor a one-day seminar. This would be a structured meeting with panels/agenda/etc. Previously to discuss mutual problems/challenges in reporting/providing information about intelligence and the CIA. It would be held at CIA Headquarters -- probably in the bubble and could involve tours of the building.

SUBJECT: The Origins and Content of Time Magazine Article on Helms

1. During the week of 7 November [] former Chief, SE Division, made a number of phone calls to various CIA retirees requesting information on defunct CIA operations in the Soviet field. Mr. Richard Helms made a number of similar phone calls.

2. The 14 November issue of Time magazine contains an article by Hugh Sidey which was very complimentary about Helms, referring to his "seduction" of Popov and Penkovskiy. The information in this article was recognized by various CIA retirees as containing the information which [] and Helms had collected from them the previous week.

3. This information was provided by CIA retiree [] He also stated that because he objected personally to the language of the Sidey article, he had called Sidey and explained why the article was misleading. ADVANCED INTELLIGENCE SEMINAR (AIS)

The fourteenth running of the Advanced Intelligence Seminar (AIS) is scheduled for two and a half weeks, full time, 5 June through 21 June 1974. One of the core courses recommended for specific stages of an individual officer's career, the AIS is designed for experienced middle and senior level officers (minimum grade GS-13) from all components of the Agency. The Seminar is held to about 25 members during each running.

The AIS begins with a brief review of across-the-board problems of the Agency and the Intelligence Community. It then concentrates its attention on a number of significant international and domestic developments, particularly as they bear upon the U.S. intelligence effort in the 70's. The Seminar draws upon knowledgeable speakers from both inside and outside government and strives to establish an atmosphere of frank, in-depth dialogue among speakers and participants.

ADVANCED INTELLIGENCE SEMINAR (No. 1-70)

The Advanced Intelligence Seminar is a continuation and development of the former Intelligence Review Course, which it supersedes, and is intended for experienced personnel from all parts of the Agency. It has been structured as a middle-and-senior level course relevant to the current needs and thinking of such personnel. Major emphasis will be given to dynamic aspects of both international and domestic developments influencing CIA's role and future. The course will continue, however, to provide a review of current and projected developments within the Agency and the Intelligence Community generally.

To the extent possible, the course will be conducted in the atmosphere of a seminar to provide an opportunity for experienced personnel from each Directorate to appreciate the viewpoints and problems of their peers.
